

A low-angle photograph looking up into the canopy of a large tree. The tree is covered in dense, vibrant purple blossoms, likely cherry blossoms. The dark, intricate branches of the tree are silhouetted against a bright, overcast sky. The overall scene is a beautiful spring display.

Dear God
We thank you for all the wonderful things we can do and for all those things we are trying to do.
Help us keep trying when we find
things hard.
