

PEACE THOUGHTS

About the parable of the Good Samaritan:
'I imagine that the first question the priest and Levite asked was:
'If I stop to help this man, what will happen to me?' But, by the very nature of his concern, the good Samaritan reversed the question:
'If I do not stop to help this man, what will happen to him?'
Martin Luther King Jr: Strength To Love

The poor and needy are not 'the other. They are myself in different circumstances. They remind me that I am only one incident away from losing what I think I am entitled to.

Walt Whitman writes,
'I do not ask the wounded person how they feel:
I myself become the wounded person. I feel their pain!'

Scripture is teaching us not to count anybody out,
to be open to surprise.

It is telling us that every person we meet
is a potential source of life for us,
if there is only enough heart in us to accept it.
Sister Joan Chittister OSB

It is one thing to talk about caring for the needy;
it is another to make it happen -
even in our own town, our own institutions, in our country.
If you want to make a difference, the next time you see something cruel being done to another human being, take it personally!

GOSPEL THOUGHTS: Luke 10:25-37

Someone tripped over outside the supermarket and their shopping spilled onto the pavement. Four people rushed to help them. Anyone in need is to be befriended by the compassion within each of us. We are built with an inner feeling and conscience. It is an instinct before it becomes a decision.

Jesus' job is always to reveal what his Father is like.
We have all fallen short of acting in the image of God.
Full of compassion for us, God did not pass by us without intervening and forgiving our hesitations and excuses.
He became the victim on the cross who forgives.

We are to find our purpose and peace of mind in loving God and our neighbour.

Do not be silly and ask Jesus "Who is my neighbour?"

REMEMBERED...during Mass

Catherine Lally, Brenda Horan, Michael (Alan) Towey, Huda Assad, Patricia Short Richard McArdle.
Please keep these families in your prayers.
